It's like The Matrix. I won't do it. I WON'T DO IT! See? Tell me more about it! What's wrong? Things in my head. Yeah, but what are they? Things in my head. So, a real story will be too much of "your stuff in your head". I don't get what you mean. That's why I know I can't write it. Why do you need my help? Everyone can't handle their personal relationships. It's just a little, just a story. But the entire universe is based on a story. I'm kidding. Seriously, a story has to be about things in the real world. You're funny. We must have chemistry. Then maybe we're together. I'm just a bit lonely. Oh, the story you're talking about. I don't understand it. I don't mean this as an insult. I understand why you want to become a writer, but I think you need some life experiences before you become a writer. Do you have any good thing that is just that? Do you have a good friend? Another good friend? Or just a good moment in your life? Just write down the good things on a piece of paper and paste it onto your computer. Use these papers as source material. Write down the beginnings, the middle parts and the end parts. The more you write the best you will become. Write even when you do not feel like it. Even when you do not know what to write. The pieces of paper with words will make a real story out of nothing. Actually, that was a good story, but it was only my personal experience. Writing on paper and editing your thoughts is only a hint at the power of your mind. You have to think yourself. If you want to write a story, then you must bring the characters to life. That is what I can teach you. We can also learn each other. I was wrong. Funny, just as you said. You have a lot to learn. Well, I have a day job, so I can't devote myself to writing for a long time, but I'm prepared to learn. Thanks for the advice. It's interesting, that you teach me. I wonder what you're paying

y-Sandy Community Blog by Aaron - Updated 10/29/20 When: May 18, 2020 at 9 AM PT / 12 PM ET / 17.00 UTC Where: San Diego, California, USA About: Finally we're back to raiding! We'll have our traditional positions for who goes in and who goes out, as well as who wins the most pots of gold. Since this is the best day in dwarf society, we will also have commentary for what we saw in the other adventures. Watch Dan battle the dragon while I get to dance. Enjoy! Round 1: Deep Blue Sea Many of you are aware that this weekend will kick off the next set in Hoard of the Dragon Queen. But let's not dwell on the inevitable in this situation. It's time to go back to raiding, and one of our first stops is the behemoth: Deep Blue Sea! Deep Blue Sea: Commander — There will be a total of 6 Kobolds. Fraction — Their commander will have a similar encounter to Battered Sledex, so explain that a little. Double Green Ring — Several of their planes are bigger than their Ring of Wonder bats. You'll want to get this ring active as soon as possible. Ring of Wonder — This goes down the same walk as Disk of Knowledge in Raid of the Emperor's Handy-Sandy. It's a good ring to get by several of their other Kobolds, so make sure you get this in there and added to everyone! Ring of Wis, Investigation +5 — You'll want to be hitting the investigation as quick as you can. They will hit hard with all of their attacks and are packing stuff like Neverball! You will want to investigate it right away! Ring of Wis +5 — Not much to say on this ring. It's always a good one to have on. Note: They get to ban three AD and even take a WS skill, but it only gives us a +5 DoW rather than a +6 DoW. Ring of Wis +5, Investigation +5 — You get to see where these guys got the neverball from. I think we went to get it a few times, but it does say "By combining starter products, you can learn a variety of new skills with an initial
