Select one or several files by holding CTRL and clicking. Alternatively, select more than one file by holding CTRL and clicking on the first file, after which CTRL+D is available to rename all selected files at once (in that order) to "file1 file2 file3" and etc. Download to your computer or mobile device (iOS and Android) The files will automatically be downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you click the button. Open our folder in Finder and navigate to the "Downloads" folder, which is at the root of the installation. Drag and drop the files on your "Downloads" folder. That's it, you are now done! Notes: The files are in VLC/flac format, and they should be compatible with any VLC/flac player. However, I do not guarantee any compatibility with other players or devices, such as: your smartphone, where your files are tied to your Google account and are not compatible with other apps (such as VLC, Bluetooth headphones that do not support other formats (so the files would be converted to this format when you connect it to your smartphone), Apple TV (since AppleTV does not play VLC/flac files at all), other Android devices, etc. If you purchase or download the flac/VLC/FLAC extension, the installer will automatically show the files in this format for you. If you need to send the files, you can do it via Dropbox, Google Drive, FTP, or send them via email. Questions: If you have questions about this extension (or you encounter any issues), feel free to give it a try and leave a rating. You can also leave a message on our forum and we will try to answer as quickly as possible. You can find our support for free, including documentation and support, here.#!/bin/bash # Ensures that all local files used to build NuCypher are built with the version specified # by the configuration file. # Parameters: # $1 -- project name if [-f $1/config.json] then # Check that we're in the right project if [[$PWD = */`cat $1/config.json`]] then
