EHM Icon Patch - Download.Over a year ago, we reported on a new NHL expansion franchise in Las Vegas called the Vegas Golden Knights. It was late April, and there were plenty of rumors floating around about the team. This included the name, colors, logos, and the roster. A few weeks later, the team was officially announced and this gave us a team and a name to analyze. We have now been able to get our hands on their schedule, and it was released on Thursday. That means we can start looking at the 2014-15 season, which is a day late, but the schedule is now available. Let's start there and look at some of the things we can find in the schedule. One of the things we can look at right off the bat is that the team will play all teams in the West, the first time in a while that a team has played against all teams in their conference. Here is the overall schedule, with the two conference divisions listed in the table: Hopefully, this is a good sign, given that this is the first year for the team and that they have such a new schedule to prepare for. However, keep in mind that these dates are way off, with only one game in October, and that is on October 12th. This means that they need to start playing around the mid-October block. The schedule doesn't show anything special in the Eastern Conference. Instead, they'll play teams on the West Coast and play games against the Pacific c6a93da74d
